Women's League Rents Pictures

Prints of original paintings by such artists as Raoul Dufy and Vincent Van Gogh have been made available by the Women's League for rental to women students and faculty.

The collection of prints, valued at $1,500, is now on display in the gallery on the second floor of the Arts Building. Students may visit the exhibit through Tuesday, September 30, and select their pictures.

A rental fee of fifty cents for a semester or one dollar for the school year is charged for each picture.

Band Invites New Members

Any student with previous band experience is invited to participate in the EMC band program, Prof. Mitchell Osadchuk, Director of Bands, announced this week.

Band members are selected on the bases of personal interviews and auditions, and need not be music majors. Rehearsals are held every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 4:00 until 5:30 p.m.

Uniforms are furnished for band members, and some school-owned instruments are available. Interested students should see Prof. Osadchuk in room 9 of Pease Auditorium.

Welcome, Students

The period between the end of the summer session and the opening of college in September makes one realize how much the student body means to campus life. Without the students, life is drab and dull. The bustle and hum of hundreds of students going from one place to another is replaced by an ominous quiet.

When college is open it is different. As I look out of my window I can see the expressions of anticipation on the faces of passing students. I hear their laughter and see them greeting each other as friends are recognized. It is a part of college life. It is no wonder that we welcome you to the campus of Eastern Michigan College. It is a very lonesome place without you.

College is a fascinating experience and one that you will remember as long as you live. The day-to-day contacts may seem trivial and of passing importance, but, taken as a whole, the lessons that are learned make a person more able to meet the complexities of life.

Cultural opportunities are steadily increasing. By mid-November the Daniel L. Quirk, Jr. Dramatic Arts Theatre will be ready for occupancy. This will be one of the finest college dramatic art centers in the nation. The play production possibilities, directed by a highly competent staff, will be an important asset to the college.

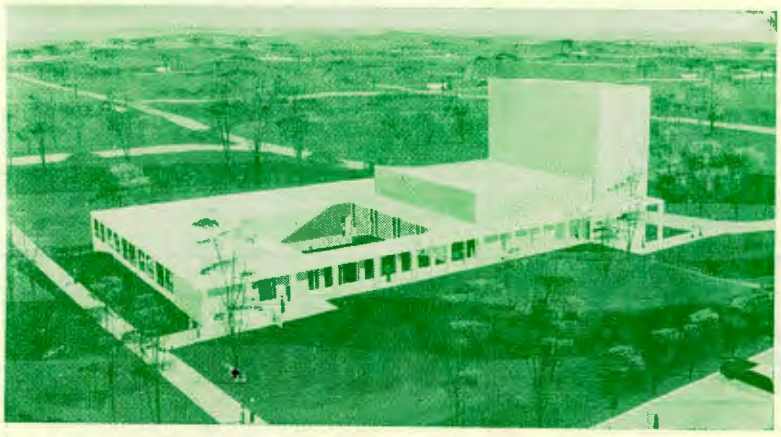
Word has been received that the Frederick Alexander Memorial organ will be installed ahead of schedule. It is now expected that the task of installation will be under way prior to the closing of the current school year. As students and staff, we can be proud of the organ which will cost approximately $100,000 to purchase and install.

A new student health center will provide better facilities for meeting the health needs of the students. The new center will carry the name of Geraldine C. Snow Health Center, after Dr. Snow, who gave so many years of her life in developing a health program at Eastern.

I, personally, welcome you and I hope that each of you has a most profitable year.

— Eugene B. Elliott

EMC Players Announce Plans For 1958-1959 Drama Season



Daniel J. Quirk, Jr. Dramatic Arts Theatre will be the scene of three major EMC Players' productions this year.

The EMC Players announced their 1958-1959 season this week, scheduling three major productions for the new Daniel L. Quirk, Jr. Theatre.

The dedication production will be Pulitzer Prize-winning Arthur Miller's "The Crucible." This drama, which will be presented in January, is centered around the Salem witchcraft trials.

Following "The Crucible," the Players will present Jean Giraudoux's fantasy, "The Madwoman of Chaillot," a satirical French comedy.

The final major production will be Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical comedy, "Oklahoma!"

Currently the group is preparing for their opening production, a bill of three student-directed one act plays. These will be presented in Roosevelt Auditorium in October.

As part of their move into the new theatre, the Players are offering reserved seats on a subscription basis. Season tickets at two dollars and fifty cents are now on sale at McKenny Hall.

WOIA Broadcasts Grid Contests

For the first time, Eastern Michigan football games will be broadcast over radio this season in the Ypsilanti-Ann Arbor area.

Handling the broadcast will be radio station WOIA (1290), Saline.

The play by play will be done by Tom Johnston, sports director of the station, with the aid of Bill Jones, Eastern Michigan College sports publicist. The games will be handled by delayed broadcast beginning at 3:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon so as to not conflict with but a small portion of the University of Michigan games. Sponsoring the broadcasts will be Allison's Shell Service, the Bomber Restaurant, and Standard Printing Company, all Ypsilanti concerns.

Only two contests, the Illinois State Normal and the Southern Illinois games, will not be aired. A special summary roundup of these two games will be delivered at 4:30 p.m. on Saturday September 27, for the ISNU game, and Saturday, October 25, for the SIU affair. On the other hand, the Central Michigan game, expected to be one of the major contests in the IIAC this season, will be handled "live" with a play by play to be delivered directly back to the Ypsilanti-Ann Arbor area.

*IIAC Conference games

Team Faces Test Here Friday

by Bob Smullen

A preview of Huron capability to retain the IIAC football championship will be determined tomorrow night when the EMC gridders take on Hope College, a non-conference rival, at Briggs Field at 8:00.

This clash will demonstrate strengths and weaknesses that exist in Coach Trosko's group after two weeks of extensive training. The first conference game will be with Illinois Normal University on September 27.

Hope is rated as tough competition, having almost upset Hillsdale College last year in the MIAA circuit. The Holland group smashed EMC 19-6 last season.

Both the Hurons and the Dutchmen will have proven lines but both have lost their starting backfields in graduation. The greatest green-and-white gap to be filled was left by Kerry Keating, the state's leading scorer in '57. Kerry chalked up 15 T.D.'s.

Gerald Wedge, John Kubiak or Dave Longridge will be quarterbacking. While Wedge and Kubiak are veteran campaigners, Longridge just joined the squad.

John Malone and Brian Dunn are possibilities at fullback with Jim Schultz, while Sam Holloway and George Thompson are slated for halfback positions. However, the latter spot could be bolstered by recalling brawny linemen Al Day and Dan Viergever. Another possibility rests in freshman Dave Trosko, nephew of Coach Fred Trosko.

With the exception of former guard Gerald Brown, nearly the entire 1957 line is returning. Included are ends Al Day, Don Mathews, and Captain Charles Shonta; tackles Carl Elliott, Fred Kessler, and Jim Emington; guards Jim Christensen and Dan Viergever; centers Alex Klukach and John Batson.

Other prospects are Bob Price, sophomore, at tackle; Bill Yanis, sophomore, at end; and Jim Shaw at tackle. Ed Wuestenberg, a returning serviceman who gained football experience at Wayne State University, is yet untested but is expected to be of considerable assistance in the line. Bill MacKenzie, an entering freshman from Ypsilanti Roosevelt High, is also considered an excellent prospect at halfback.
